

COLGATE UNIVERSITY
HAMILTON, NEW YORK 13346

Department of Political Science
(315) 824-1000 Ext. 521

January 3, 1981

Richard Lehman
NIO/Warning
Room 7E62 Hqs.
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Lehman:

Your secretary will have told you that I am leading once again the Colgate Washington Foreign Policy Workshop, as I did two years ago. I am looking forward to your briefing, which is always a highpoint of our January program in the nation's capital.

My preferred date would be Thursday, January 22, any time after 2:00 p.m. If this is inconvenient, have your secretary give me a call with a couple of alternatives that I might be able to fit into the workshop schedule.

I enclose a list of the workshop participants, with their home address, birth date, and Social Security number. It also lists my current Washington address where I can be reached.

Looking forward to hearing from you,

Sincerely yours,

Charles R. Naef, Director
1981 Colgate Foreign Policy
Workshop in Washington

Enc. 1

STAT

Approved For Release 2004/10/28 : CIA-RDP86B00985R000400120002-4

Next 1 Page(s) In Document Exempt

Approved For Release 2004/10/28 : CIA-RDP86B00985R000400120002-4

September 25, 1980

Executive Registry

80-7974

NFAC 6529-80
[REDACTED]

Mr. Stansfield Turner, Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Mr. Turner:

I am Associate Professor of political science at Illinois Wesleyan University, a liberal arts institution in Bloomington, Illinois, which each January arranges a number of travel courses for its students. During January, 1981, I am scheduled to bring about ten students to Washington to study Foreign Policy Formation and I am inquiring to determine whether the Central Intelligence Agency would be willing to provide us with one of our briefings during that time.

The last time I brought students to Washington (1978) the Central Intelligence Agency was willing to provide us with a briefing, and we were told about agency activities, given an idea about what, in substance, American intelligence was regarding various nations, and we observed in process an intelligence project using computer terminals. This was a particularly informative kind of briefing, and I hope that the Central Intelligence Agency is still informing the interested public of its work in this way.

We plan being in Washington for this purpose during the week of January 19-23, 1981. We are planning to hold one briefing during the morning, and one briefing during the afternoon, each day to enable us to travel around the city. Morning briefings could begin at any time from 8:30 to 10:00 a.m.; afternoon briefings, (depending on the time when the morning briefing ends, and to allow for travel and lunch) at any time from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.

We are accustomed, during our briefings, to about a forty-five minute presentation, followed by forty-five minutes for questions from the students, but if your format is different, we are willing to accede, although we would like to have the opportunity to ask some questions.

If you would like to propose a morning or afternoon session for a briefing, and indicate a specific time when you would like us to be present, I will place you on our schedule. You may do this either by writing me, or by telephoning me, at (309) 556-3030.

I look forward to hearing from you about our briefing.

Very truly yours,

Robert G. Leh

Robert G. Leh
Associate Professor
Political Science